Welcome Message

Shabeermon M
Head

On behalf of the entire History community, welcome!

The Department of History has been an integral part of K.A.H.M Unity Women's College Manjeri since its establishment. When the institution began in 1991 with three courses, History was taught as a subsidiary subject for the BA English programme. The department grew with the launch of the BA History programme in 2001.

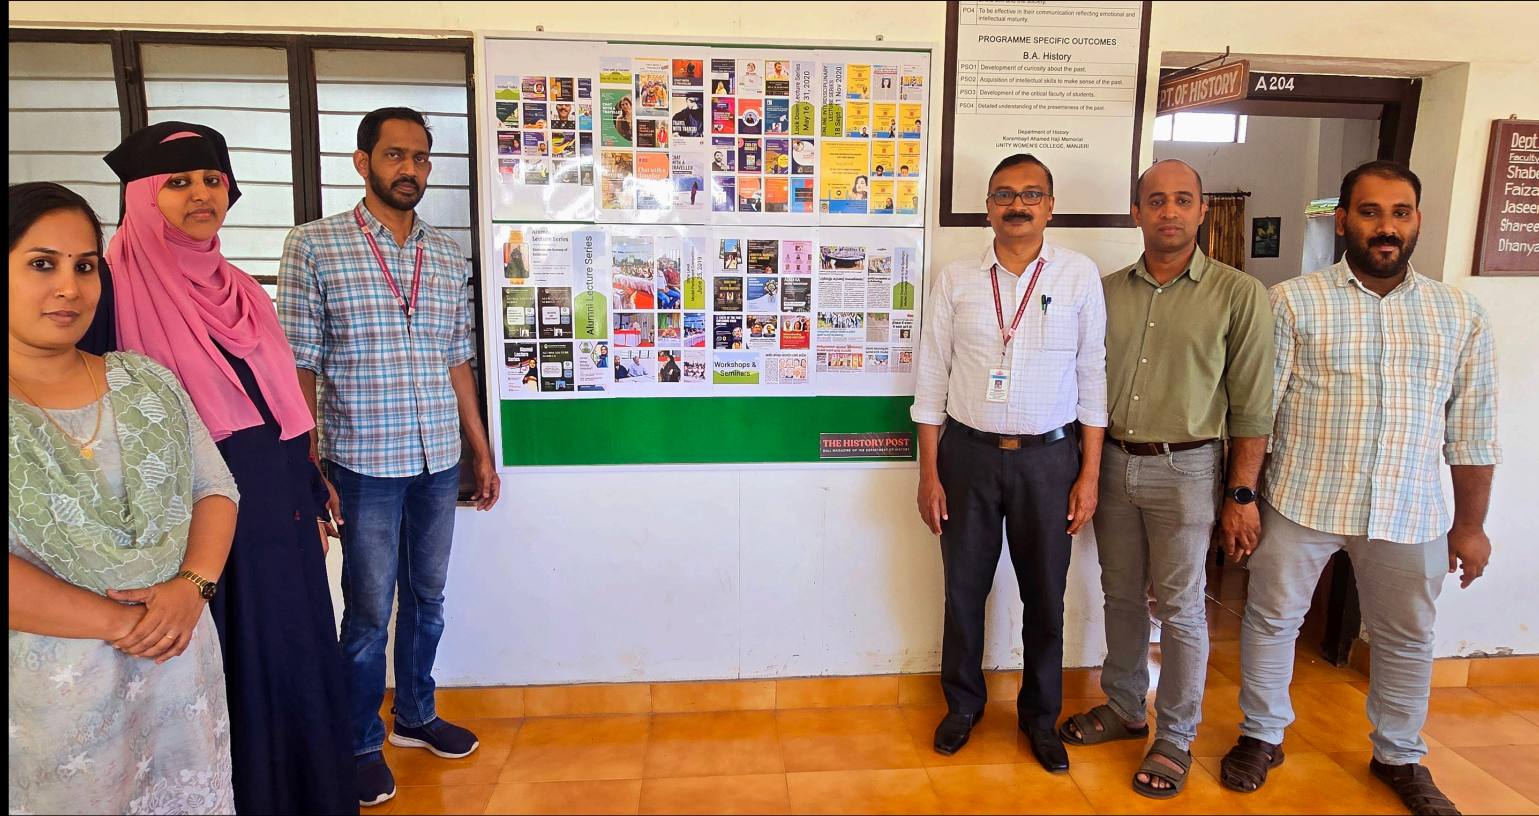

In 2011, the department was strengthened by the appointment of three permanent faculty. Currently, it has four faculty members and 195 students. We offer 18 courses, including a project for the BA History final year students. Our faculty are experienced in teaching and research and regularly present their work at academic seminars. They maintain a supportive and student-friendly approach to enhance learning and engagement.

The department's blog, Histoblog, shares updates and study materials with students and the wider community. Students can also enrol in various certificate courses. We organise local field visits and North Indian study tours to encourage experiential learning. Most of our graduates actively participate in campus life and pursue postgraduate and teacher education in the Social Sciences.

Our Vision

To mould empowered young women with intellectual curiosity and honesty, instilled with maturity and courage in their actions, and conscious about their country's rich history and culture

Our Mission

- To instil in students a passion for learning about the past.
- To enable them to gain a better understanding of the contemporary world.
- To make students aware of how historical study can contribute to human betterment and a more hopeful future.
- To enable students to develop and articulate the historical understanding that prepares them for further studies in History and various competitive examinations.
- To encourage students to conduct research on local history and thus develop their ability to analyse, assess evidence and articulate their findings

Objectives of the Department

- Provides strong academic grounding in history while fostering critical thinking and analytical skills.
- Empowers women through historical awareness and promotes inclusive understanding, with focus on India's cultural context.
- Nurtures research aptitude and encourages documentation of regional and community histories.
- Enhances employability and academic growth through skill-based training and interdisciplinary learning.
- Prepares students for careers in education, civil services, and heritage sectors with a foundation in ethics and social responsibility.

Distinctiveness

Empowering Women through Regional History and Community-Engaged Learning

The Department of History empowers first-generation women learners in a rural, Muslim minority setting by blending academic excellence with cultural sensitivity. It focuses on regional history, especially the heritage of Malabar, and promotes local history documentation and community-based research. Through inclusive learning and social engagement, the department nurtures informed, confident graduates. This unique mix of heritage awareness, identity, and empowerment defines the distinctive academic culture of the Department.

Future Plans

- Elevate the department to a recognised research centre
  - Introduce interdisciplinary minor courses for FYUGP students
  - Strengthen community engagement through expanded collaborative initiatives and outreach programmes
  - Develop and disseminate digital content using MILES Studio to enhance public access to historical knowledge.
  - Provide structured coaching in history for competitive examinations, equipping students for academic and professional success.
  - Develop the Eranad History Museum as a centre for preserving and promoting Kerala's Indigenous Knowledge System
