Sneha Bhavanam 2 (2022-23)

KAHM UNITY WOMEN'S COLLEGE, MANJERI

The primary aim and objective of a home project for a homeless classmate is to provide a safe and comfortable living space for someone who is currently without a home. In addition to this overarching goal, there may be several other aims and objectives associated with this type of project, including:

To raise awareness about the issue of homelessness and the challenges faced by people who are homeless.

To foster a sense of community and collaboration among students, teachers, and other members of the institution

To provide students with an opportunity to develop leadership, teamwork, and problem-solving skills as they plan and execute the project.

To promote empathy and compassion among students by encouraging them to think about the needs and experiences of others, particularly those who are less fortunate.

To inspire students to take action on social issues and make a positive difference in their communities.

Overall, the aims and objectives of a home project for a homeless classmate go beyond simply providing a physical space to live. They involve a broader commitment to social justice and community engagement, with the goal of creating a more inclusive and equitable society for all.
